Organizations Based in Wards 7 and 8

A PROJECT OF THE EAST OF THE RIVER TASK FORCE
OF THE CHILDREN, YOUTH, AND FAMILIES WORKING GROUP
AND THE URBAN INSTITUTE

DECEMBER 2005

Introduction

The East of the River Task Force is pleased to present to members of Washington Grantmakers this directory of organizations based in Wards 7 and 8 in the District of Columbia. The East of the River Task Force was organized by the Children, Youth, and Families Working Group of Washington Grantmakers to help local funders learn more about the communities in Wards 7 and 8.

The Task Force has provided Washington Grantmakers' members myriad opportunities to hear directly from both residents and organizations through the following:

- A forum on affordable housing;
- A report, Community Voices, on the issues and concerns raised from four focus groups conducted by the Task Force;
- A question and answer forum with Ward 7 educational organizations on how foundations operate;
- Co-sponsorship of a Ward 7 candidates' forum during the 2004 elections;
- A focus on Ward 7 and 8 organizations as part of a Washington Grantmakers' program on capacity building;
- A presentation from Ward 8 youth on the merits of the positive youth development approach as part of a Washington Grantmakers' program on youth development;
- A forum on the personal financial barriers of residents and the proliferation of alternative financial institutions;
- Meetings with D.C. council members representing communities east of the river; and
- A multi-issue forum held at the Anacostia Museum to discuss how funders can work together to increase investments in indigenous east-of-the river organizations.

During the multi-issue forum, funders expressed the need for information about organizations based in Wards 7 and 8. The East of the River Task Force was charged with compiling a directory of nonprofits for Washington Grantmakers' members to use as a starting point for increasing the number of organizations receiving foundation support. The Task Force contracted with the Urban Institute (UI) to create the directory based on other work UI has done researching the Washington nonprofit community. In addition to the directory, UI will provide the Task Force with an analysis of the data collected from these nonprofits.

This directory, which is part of the Washington Grantmakers' Members Only website, will be updated periodically and will provide members with the opportunity to share information about their experiences partnering with these organizations. As explained in the "Data and Definitions" section that follows, UI compiled directory information from surveys, the IRS Form 990, the National Center for Charitable Statistics, and the Internet. However, all information for every organization could not be found and therefore has not been included in the directory. Please note also that, in some cases, addresses and telephone numbers are the personal contact information for executive directors.

While the focus of the Task Force and the directory is those organizations that are indigenous to Wards 7 and 8, we also recognize that some nonprofits in other parts of the city have provided important services and programs to these communities. A list of those organizations appears in the appendix.

Data and Definitions

This directory contains 501(c)3 public charities registered with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and headquartered in Ward 7 or 8 in the District of Columbia. The list of nonprofits was developed using data from the National Center for Charitable Statistics at the Urban Institute. Organizational information was largely collected directly from the nonprofits during a telephone survey conducted in the summer of 2005. Of the 100 groups identified in the two wards, 64 completed the survey.

For the 36 groups that did not respond, program service information, found on the Internet or the IRS Form 990 (filed by larger nonprofits), was added when available. Total income was also supplemented with Form 990 data when available. Generally, budget data from the Form 990 corresponds to fiscal year 2002, while budget information provided during the survey corresponds to fiscal year 2004.

The directory is organized by ward and by five possible service areas—youth education, youth development, physical and mental health, family and social services and community development. Youth education contains charter and private schools and educational support nonprofits. Youth development includes mentoring and sports recreation groups. Family and social services is comprised of family strengthening services, child care, emergency services and social services for seniors. Nonprofits primarily providing physical or mental health services are in the health category, though it is indicated where any organization provides one of the following: primary care, immunizations, health education, mental health services, substance abuse treatment or prevention, crisis intervention, health referrals or fitness programs. Community development includes housing, economic development, job training and arts and culture organizations, as well as multi-service providers.

For more on the methodology used to create this directory, see the final report at www.urban.org.
